Susanne maintained her connection to the Trenton area, returning regularly to manage her agriculture interests.

Susanne and Fred returned to the Trenton area to retire, at which time she immersed herself in organizations that interested her. As her friend, Parman Green stated, "Susanne was a very active proponent of University of Missouri Extension. She was supportive and active in Extension's farm business managing program and the Master Gardener program. Her support of MU Extension extended beyond Grundy County as Susanne was a regular participant of MU Extension programming in Carroll and Livingston counties."

Susanne was also involved and on boards of the Grundy County Council of Aging, Friends of the Library, Antique Study Club, Grand River Garden Club and Trenton Women's Investment Club. She was a volunteer in the Spickard School System and participated in bridge clubs.

Surviving relatives include her daughters, Theresa Ramsey and her husband, Peter of Shreveport, LA and Katherine Gilhuly and her husband, Douglas Todd, of Coral Gables FL; and grandchildren, Peter Dobson Jr. and his wife, Julie Richardson Ramsey and Fredrick James Ramsey.
