She lived her life for her families and her friends. The more the merrier. Her family of choice were her friends and she had hundreds.

Vacations, deep sea fishing, and the beach were some of her favorite pastimes. As well as a Miller Lite in hand, and dancing to Aretha Franklin.

Annie is survived by her wife and soul mate of 24 years, Lynn Yonushka Galli. She is also survived by a stepson Kristopher Yonushka, wife Alana, Jenkins Twp., and two grandson Nando and Mario who she loved with all her heart.

Also surviving are her mother Beatrice Galli and a brother Leonard and his wife Michelle Galli, Exeter, nieces and nephew Brittany Galli, Brandon Galli, and Olivia Garbush with whom she shared cherished and many wonderful memories, brothers in law, sisters in law and cousins who loved her.

Annie's wish was to celebrate her life and every wonderful, fun memory you all have of her.

Many have lost battles with cancer, not AnnieGalli. She won her life battle and took it on to her new journey. Her miracles were many over and over again only to keep going.

A special thank you to Dr. Thomas and staff at Hematology Oncology, Dunmore, the Hospice of the Sacred Heart and Dr. Philip Webb and Staff at Webb Chiropractic, Wyoming.
