

Obituary

Died: Monday, November 11, 2019

Bernadine L. Lull age 89 of Woodman passed away on November 11, 2019 at Divine Health and Rehabilitation in Fennimore. She was born on May 24 th 1930 in Eastman Wisconsin the daughter of Leo E. and Ella B. (Bonney) Moravits. She married Alvin W. Lull on January 30, 1948 at Immaculate Conception in Boscobel. Alvin proceeded her in death on September 4 th 2004. During her early teens her family moved to Woodman, little did she know that this little village would become her home town for the rest of her life. For Bernadine small town life was just perfect. After the move she was able to finish her high school education at Boscobel Schools graduating in 1948. From her parents Bernadine learned the meaning of dedication to family and to occupation, love, kindness and sweetness which she demonstrated all of her life. During her work life she spent years as an employee of Northwest Telephone at the Boscobel office and then many years, until retirement, at Boscobel Memorial Hospital where she made lifelong friends of fellow employees and the patients she served. Hard work also spilled over to home life with the huge garden that seemed to appear every year even though the year before she had decided would be the last. Her dedication to her marriage to her husband, Alvin, was demonstrated in her care of him during his 50-year battle with a debilitating illness. Bernadine absolutely adored her family especially the little ones whom she could hug and snuggle with and eventually bend to her will by bribing with the best homemade sugar cookies and ice cream ever. Family gatherings during the holidays and summer picnics brought out her cooking and baking skills from turkey to hams to the family famous potato salad that no one could really replicate to her perfection. In later years she decided that the best way for the family to feel warm was for everyone to have a quilt so this began the quilting frenzy phase of her life. Quilts,
